

Video Meeting Format Committee January 2017

The committee did not meet this month, but communicated through email of the difficulties that the members have encountered in the next step of the process we are at.

This process is about finding people who would be able to partake in the filming of this video. Our expectations were that we might be able to get people who are members of other Fellowships to be the actors in these abbreviated meeting videos. Making this process more difficult is to also find a production facility in the same area to make the videos. This seems to be a temporary obstacle.

During our February meeting, we will have to re-examine our current pathway to find an alternative method of accomplishing this next step, if the committee is unable to put all the pieced together for this next step. It is possible that the committee may need to focus on production facilities locations that might be willing to take on this project and then trying to secure volunteer actors.

Because of the geographic diversification of the committee members, we are certain that something will be worked out to get our committee past this temporary difficulty.
